Mother Hopes He's Out of Trouble

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Capt. Arthur W. Wermuth of Chicago, who won recognition as a "one-man army" in the defense of Bataan by killing 116 Japanese singlehanded, has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp, his wife, Mrs. Jean Wermuth, said she was notified yesterday by the war department.

Mrs. Wermuth said the information from the adjutant general's office advised her that her husband's name "appears in a list of personnel at Camp Hoten, Mukden, Manchuria, dated Aug. 26," as reported by the American camp commander.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 30.—The sister and mother of Army Capt. Arthur Wermuth, Bataan's "one man army," greeted the news of the hero's liberation from a Jap prison camp with the hope that "he stops getting into trouble with the Japs."

Wermuth's sister, Talia, and his mother, Mrs. Clara Wermuth, were here for Miss Wermuth's dancing engagement at a Northern Kentucky nightclub.

"He was always in trouble with the Japs," Mrs. Wermuth said. "He was wounded three times but wouldn't stay hospitalized. He would run off without orders trying to kill more Japs. Art killed 136 Japs before Bataan fell."

Mrs. Wermuth said she received many letters from men who shared her son's experiences and who were released from prison earlier.

"They told me Art organized 'Wermuth's Wreckless Warriors' before his capture. He would go alone in a foxhole and deliberately draw Jap fire by opening up with his own machine gun. When the Japs fired and revealed their position the others would clean them up," she said.

MACARTHUR ARRIVES IN JAPAN AS NIPPON'S MILITARY RULER

PEARL HARBOR BLAME PUT ON WHOLE NATION

President Declares Views
And Says He Will Not Call Courtmartial

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Truman declared today he thought the whole country, as much as any individual, was responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Mr. Truman told a news conference he had no objection to a court martial but didn't intend to order one.

In addition, he said he always had favored a unity of command for the army and navy, but didn't want to amplify his views on that now.

Answering a barrage of questions based on the release yesterday of official reports by boards of inquiry which investigated the events leading up to Pearl Harbor, the chief executive said he had read the documents carefully.

And, he said, he had come to the conclusion the whole thing was a result of the policy of the country itself. It wasn't ready for preparation, he asserted.

Preparedness moves by the late President Roosevelt were stifled, Mr. Truman said, and Mr. Roosevelt was vilified for preparedness statements.

Acknowledges Mistake
So, he said, the country was as much to blame as any individual. The President acknowledged he had made a false statement about Pearl Harbor while he was in the senate. In a magazine article last fall, Mr. Truman had said the army and navy commanders at the Pacific bastion were not on speaking terms.

A reporter reminded him of that today.

Grimacing, Mr. Truman remarked that things come back to haunt you.

Told some members of congress seem to think there should be courts martial so accused officers could have their side of the story told, the President said he had no objection to that.

But he said he knew of no reason why they couldn't make their side public without military trials. The chief executive took occasion to associate himself today with Secretary of War Stimson's declaration that criticism of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull was uncalled for.

MORE MEAT COMING WITH POINT SLASH

Red Points Also To Buy
More Butter, Cheese
Starting Sunday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Red points will buy about 28 per cent more meat, 50 per cent more cheese, and 25 per cent more butter and margarine beginning Sunday.

Canned milk becomes ration free.

Announcing these reductions in red point values today, Price Administrator Chester Bowles attributed them to larger allocations by the agriculture department and improved distribution.

Only in the case of fats and oils is the situation tighter than in August, Bowles reported. He added there is no indication of an early improvement there.

Estimating the average decrease in the point value of meats at 28 per cent, the OPA chief said both housewives and restaurants will be able to buy more meat than at any time since last March.

Steaks and roasts will be down from 2 to 3 points; hamburger 2 and lamb and veal 1 to 3 points. Pork steaks, chops and roasts go down 1 to 2 points; all bacon 2 points and spareribs drop 3 points.

Most meats that now have a value of 2 to 3 points go down 1 point. Creamery butter will cost 12 points. Margarine also goes down from 16 to 12 points.

Merrill Mueller Finds Japs Still Insolent

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Merrill Mueller, NBC correspondent with the occupation forces in Japan, said in a broadcast over the American army controlled radio Tokyo today, he had toured downtown Tokyo and found the Japanese there mostly "still insolent."

He described the famed "Tokyo Rose," Japan's woman broadcaster who specialized in attempting to make American service men homesick, as a "modest, nondescript little woman."

ATTACK FATAL TO DR. TRADER

Doctor Dies Suddenly At Columbiana Shortly Before Noon Today

Dr. F. W. Trader, 47, one of the prominent doctors of this vicinity, died suddenly at 10:30 a. m. today at his office on Main st., Columbiana. Death was due to coronary thrombosis.

He taught his student nurse classes at Salem City hospital this morning and returned to his office about 9:30. After that he suffered the heart attack.

Dr. Trader, a graduate of Mount Union College and the University of Pittsburgh, interned at the Central Clinic before going to Columbiana in 1924. He was widely known as a surgeon, having been active in Salem and Columbiana.

He was the president of the Columbiana board of education and was one of the founders of Freestone park. He also was a member of the Methodist church, was associated with the Rotary club in earlier years, and was a member of the American and Ohio Medical associations.

He was assistant chief surgeon at Salem City hospital.

Surviving are his wife, Genevieve, one daughter, Anne, and one son, Jimmie.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

BEARDMORE GLADS WIN HIGH HONORS

The Charles D. Beardmore family of Salem, gladiolus growers, had the honor of scoring the most points at the 17th annual exhibition of the Ohio State Gladiolus society, held this week in Cleveland.

The chief exhibit of the family was a large scarlet seedling originated by Fred Beardmore which was awarded the champion seedling honors and also voted the most beautiful bloom in the show. He was awarded the H. O. Evans champion seedling trophy.

Other trophies awarded the Beardmores were the amateur achievement and vase arrangements.

It is estimated 11,000 people attended the show.

(By Associated Press)
CHUNGKING, Aug. 30.—The Japanese were expected to send representatives to Kaiyuan in Kwangsi province today to arrange the surrender of their forces in Northern Indochina.

The surrender will be accepted on behalf of China by Gen. Lu Han. After preliminary negotiations have been completed, Gen. Lu will send troops into Northern Indochina to disarm the Japanese and set up a military government.

U. S. commander in China, said little trouble was expected from Communist troops outside Shanghai. He said he believed them to be insufficiently strong.

He said American troops and equipment would not be employed to participate in any clash between the Chinese regulars and Communists, and that "should a clash become imminent, the Americans would be evacuated."

The U. S. commander said if sufficient shipping were provided, American troops might be out of China by next spring.

Wedemeyer said his headquarters was trying to hasten the movement of large numbers of troops to Nanking by air. He said advance parties already were in Nanking, where the formal Japanese surrender in China will take place.

American minesweepers are removing mines from the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers to speed their opening to shipping.

Eichelberger Praises Men Who Made Victory Possible

MANILA, Aug. 30.—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, who will command allied ground forces in the Tokyo occupation area, paid tribute to the men and nations who made victory possible.

Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth army, accompanied Gen. MacArthur in the Army Airborne troop operation from Okinawa to Japan.

"Today as we proudly reach the Tokyo area my mind turns back nearly three years to the first ground force victory in the bloody swamps of Buna," read a statement by Eichelberger, referring to the initial allied comeback campaign in New Guinea in December, 1942.

"Once more my memory recalls those wonderful Australians who fought side by side with us in those bitter days and contributed so much toward victory. I live again the advance along the New Guinea axis, followed by the swift liberation of the Philippines."

Maj. Gen. C. A. Willoughby, General MacArthur's intelligence officer, welcomed Eichelberger on behalf of the supreme commander, and President Sergio Osmeña greeted him on behalf of the Philippine commonwealth.

WAINWRIGHT DOESN'T RECOGNIZE MANILA

MANILA, Aug. 30.—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, pale from years in enemy prison camps, stepped from his plane today enroute from Chungking to Tokyo to witness Japan's surrender.

He saw a Manila he "wouldn't recognize," it is so overflowing with allied military power.

Wearing three large old-style stars on his shirt, Wainwright was visibly shaken by his return to the city he saw fall, across Manila bay from his last Philippines battleground.

Maj. Gen. C. A. Willoughby, General MacArthur's intelligence officer, welcomed Wainwright on behalf of the supreme commander, and President Sergio Osmeña greeted him on behalf of the Philippine commonwealth.

HEADQUARTERS IN YOKOHAMA SET UP; MARINES, SAILORS LANDING WITHOUT BLOODSHED

By The Associated Press
ATSUGI AIRFIELD, near Tokyo, Aug. 30.—Gen. MacArthur arrived in Japan and set up headquarters in Yokohama as Nippon's military ruler today amidst the first allied armed forces ever to occupy the sacred islands.

Paratroopers and seaborne marines and sailors, hand-picked to remind Nippon of the invasion of the Philippines, swarmed out of the skies and in from the sea in an unbroken stream.

They took over Tsugi airfield, 18 miles from Tokyo; ran up the American flag over Yokosuka naval base, Japan's second largest; rode by Japanese truck into Yokohama port of Tokyo, where the occupation force will establish general headquarters; and began evacuating prisoners of war from "a black hell hole" where "bestial beatings were common."

The occupation is "going splendidly," MacArthur said. Yanks were moving in an orderly fashion "without bloodshed" and he said the Japanese appeared to be acting in good faith.

The occupation by troops in full battle dress and ready for an contingency, was eight hours old when MacArthur stepped onto Atsugi airfield from his shining silver C-54 transport, "Bataan," at 2 p. m. (1 a. m. Eastern War Time).

Paratroopers Cheer Commander
The supreme allied commander landed amidst cheering paratroopers of the 11th Airborne division who began pouring from transports at 6 a. m. (5 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time) simultaneous landings at Yokosuka, led by the Fourth Marine regiment.

The Fourth Marines, rushed to the Philippines from China, were one of the heroic outfits in the fight for Manila bay and stood to the last on Corregidor.

The 11th Airborne division helped MacArthur clear 300,000 Japanese out of the Philippines and were victors at Nichols field where Japan struck its first blow at the islands.

Paratroop units drove in Japanese trucks, saluted by enemy officers, to occupy Yokohama, five miles closer to Tokyo than Yokosuka. This was the first step toward a juncture between the sea and airborne forces whose landings were made 18 miles apart.

Both air and sea forces were covered in typical battle fashion by the ready, but silent, guns of an allied war fleet in Tokyo bay and swarms of planes.

Four ships began evacuating the first of 36,000 prisoners of war in Japan, including 8,000 Americans. Simultaneously, 134 Superforts parachuted 536 tons of supplies to internment camps that won't be reached for days, or possibly weeks, by occupation forces.

Many On Hospital Ship
Among the first 500 rescued from a prisoner hospital near Yokosuka was Maj. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, Marine air hero.

Many of the 500, most of them suffering from malnutrition, open wounds, fractures, concussions and burns, were loaded aboard the hospital ship, Benevolence and the transport Reeves.

The cruiser San Juan and transport Gosselin were also in the mercy force which was under orders to "take a couple of thousand tonight."

Today's initial occupation of 18-150 armed American and British will be followed by major occupation forces—the Sixth and Eighth armies, which helped MacArthur fulfill his pledge to return to Manila.

Steel-helmeted Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Swing led his 11th division paratroopers to Atsugi. He was the first to touch Japan.

An unending stream of C-54 transports, each carrying 40-man loads, landed on the 5,600-foot runway at three minute intervals, disgorging 7,500 paratroopers.

"Sweetest Music" To Him
MacArthur called the cheers and music which greeted him "the sweetest music I ever heard."

Ranking officers flying into Atsugi included Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, whose Eighth army will occupy the Tokyo area.

"From Melbourne to Tokyo was a long road," MacArthur said before leaving for Yokohama to set up his headquarters. "But this looks like the pay-off."

The Japs seem to be offering us complete good faith and there is every hope for success in the capitulation and that it will continue without friction and without necessary bloodshed."

The cruiser San Juan and transport Gosselin were also in the mercy force which was under orders to "take a couple of thousand tonight."

Halsey Sets Up Naval Shore Quarters, Still On Missouri

(By Associated Press)
YOKOSUKA, Japan, Aug. 30.—Adm. Halsey set up American naval shore headquarters in Japan today a few hours after ten thousand American marines and blue jackets waded ashore with leveled guns and occupied the nearly deserted Yokosuka naval base.

Halsey's four-star flag was hoisted at 10:45 a. m. (9:45 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time). The third fleet admiral, however, maintained his headquarters aboard the battleship Missouri where Japan will formally surrender Sunday.

Marine troops, landing at Atsugi airfield with Gen. MacArthur, occupied Yokohama, five miles closer to Tokyo.

All are in good condition, and their wounds are healing. They still are held by the Japanese who threatened correspondents with bayonets when they first tried to interview them in the YMCA here. Entrance was gained after a 15 minute delay.

The city of Shanghai still awaits its official release.

Exchange Grave Salutes
Not a shot was fired in the first seaborne invasion in Japanese history. The amphibious forces walking ashore in the Yokosuka area found unmanned guns in empty forts—empty, except for ammunition Japan once had expected to deliver in different fashion to allied invaders.

Marines reached Yokosuka at 9:35 a. m. Japan time and the task force commander, Rear Adm. Oscar C. Badger, docked his flagship cruiser, the San Diego, at 10 a. m.

A stocky Japanese vice admiral awaited Adm. Badger and Rear Adm. Robert B. Carney, Adm. Halsey's chief of staff, at the dock. Grave salutes were exchanged.

Carney accepted surrender of the base, which Badger will administer, at 11:12 a. m. The ceremony lasted only 10 minutes.

British earlier had occupied two small islands in the bay, and Americans took a third, seizing also the thin blade of Futtsu peninsula across the bay.

What Marines Found
Marines reaching Futtsu found: A woman clam digger, who carefully turned her back and kept on digging.

A man who grabbed his clam basket and fled frantically.

A former Greek Neck, N. Y., chauffeur, waiting with two Japanese officers to act as translator during the quick capitulation ceremony.

Within a half-hour, three old Nipponese forts, unmanned, were under guard and American flags flew above them. Spikes and sledge hammers knocked out quickly the abandoned Japanese guns. A few American weapons were among those seized.

Two officers and the interpreter met the Americans in tunneled and vaulted Fort Okahodai. The Japanese garrison before withdrawing had laid out its weapons in neat rows—unlike the Germans, who destroyed much of their equipment rather than yield it to the allies.

Nowhere was there any sign of hostility.

OBERLIN, Aug. 30.—Paul W. Bremmer, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bremmer, was killed last night when he was struck on the head with a ball bat.

The youth was watching football practice at Oberlin college athletic field where a softball game was also in progress when the bat slipped from the batter's hands, striking the boy.

Forget Lend Lease Cost, Truman Plea

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Truman notified congress today that the more than $42,000,000,000 this country spent on lend-lease aid to its allies should, in the main, be written off the books.

The reason—made clear in a lengthy report Mr. Truman sent to Capitol Hill—is that the administration believes the United States received three things more important than a dollar basis settlement. They are:

1. Victory over Germany and Japan.
  2. More than $5,000,000,000 through last March in reverse lend-lease.
  3. A commitment from all nations receiving lend-lease to join in organizing postwar international trade on the basis of lowering barriers.
- In a letter, Mr. Truman told the lawmakers:
- "With the defeat of the Axis powers, whose ruthless plan for world conquest and enslavement came so close to succeeding, the United States has realized the major objective for which lend-lease aid has been extended."

Orders Operations Halted
The President has ordered lend-lease operations halted, effective V-J day, and has cut off requisitions for supplies which would have been ordered under the mutual aid program.

Arrangements are being worked out with lend-lease countries to switch their commerce to a peacetime basis. American officials will begin conversations with a British delegation next week for a credit substitute.

Summing up the gigantic program, Mr. Truman said: "Each of our principal fighting partners has contributed to the pool of armed might in accordance with its full abilities and capacities."

Now, he added, the lend-lease arrangements are being wound up in an "expedient and orderly manner, subject to military needs for the movement of troops or for occupation purposes."

The report itself said, regarding final settlement:

"The overwhelming portion of lend lease aid which now totals over $42,000,000,000 has been directly consumed by our Allies in the war."

Would Hunt Trade
It added that if so huge a debt were to be added to the enormous financial obligations already incurred by foreign governments "it would have a disastrous effect upon our trade with the united nations and hence among production and employment at home."

For years there has been talk of repayment "in kind." That meant that if the United States lend-

YANKS IN GERMANY WILL BE REDUCED

Gen. Eisenhower Sees Big
Force Down to 400,000
Before Winter Ends

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Gen. Eisenhower said today that the 2,500,000 American troops now in Germany would be reduced to a fixed occupation force of about 400,000 well before the end of the winter.

The American commander said the importation of food from the United States to feed Germans was inescapable, but that he did not mean he intended to fatten the Germans.

He said he hoped to have the Germans elect their own officials in city and rural areas this fall.

Eisenhower declined to predict how long the Allied occupation of Germany would last, saying this was a matter of higher government policy, but added that the Americans did not expect to stay here forever.

Suspicion Giving Way
He said the intensity of mutual suspicion among allied powers in Germany was giving way in the face of frankness and honesty. He said his recent trip to Russia revealed to him many things that showed remarkable planning for the welfare of the masses.

It was Eisenhower's first formal press conference in Berlin. The American commander, in a smiling mood, had just emerged from a meeting of the allied control council.

He declared the biggest current task was keeping the German nation in existence this winter with food, fuel and shelter.

Describing the redeployment of United States troops homeward as being constantly accelerated, Eisenhower said even the estimate of 400,000 men as an occupation force might be reduced later, provided the Germans did more for themselves and less policing became necessary.

Truman's Approval Given

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Construction of the St. Lawrence seaway for development of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence river was given President Truman's stamp of approval today.

The President told his news conference that he would recommend to congress that it enact legislation necessary to proceed with the much-discussed and controversial project.

Postwar Disillusionment

The disillusionment that followed World War I became a major force in our collective American opinion after 1918. We may expect a similar experience after World War II.

Our reaction from the war years and the intense experiences of an international emergency will be the critical test of the Allies' resolution to find a common ground for cooperative planning and action.

As we discover that altruism among nations is virtually as nonexistent as it is among individuals and that what seemed to be unselfishness during the war emergency was really nothing but national expediency, international confidence will be challenged by doubts.

Americans will discover, as they discovered after 1918, that their own sacrifices were not appreciated; that their allies have an unfortunate and unmanly tendency to expect too much.

We will discover when the film of fear has been struck from our eyes by the return of confidence that the United States apparently was ruled in some instances by emotion, instead of by practical thinking.

While it will be almost impossible to conceive that the same thing can take place with about the same effect in other nations, the fact is that Great Britain, Russia and France will be undergoing disillusionment, too.

It is the thing that the German, Italian and Japanese propagandists all hoped would happen sooner, rather than later—soon enough to break up the Allies before the end of the war. They knew how the Allies fell apart after World War I and hoped to induce disunity this time before their own cause had been lost.

There were no united nations after 1918. The dream of collective security that kept men's vision focused on a high purpose faded quickly when the war was over. We have had the same dream. We can spoil it with the same bitter experience that followed World War I.

Six Years of Tempest

Time has been shattered by the explosions and reverberations of the last six years. Calendars have ceased to be tables of days and months and have become, instead, records of events.

The events could not be foreseen. Some came too soon, some too late. Nothing has been systematic. The German attack on Poland, which seems by hindsight to have been predestined for the beginning of September six years ago was a surprise when it happened, as was virtually everything that has happened since. Some events were surprising when they happened at all; others were surprising when they happened sooner or later than their helpless pawns had decided they should happen.

It is mildly surprising to realize in the hush that has fallen after the completion of six years of world war that so many things have been unmoved by men's terrifying mastery of the art of killing themselves. Once again, it is the beginning of autumn. The rain has cleansed the carnage spots. They soon will be covered by snow, or by the grasses. The grave mounds are subsiding. The brink at Niagara is a fraction closer to Lake Ontario than it was in 1939 and the Japanese islands a mile more distant from the China coast.

There has been a tiny fluctuation in the statistics on world population as the consequence of our efforts. Our scientists have released an iota of atomic strength, but not enough to affect anything—not yet. It is still the world it was six years ago, a little sadder but no wiser, because mankind can't learn much in half a decade after learning so little in an aeon.

Bright Cloud—Dark Lining

The government's actions in lifting gasoline rationing and the 35-mile automobile speed limit can be likened appropriately to a bright cloud with an extremely dark lining—a lining which, in many cases, will prove as black as the crepe of death.

This statement is not made in criticism of the government's action. On the contrary, criticism and condemnation will be the proper public reaction to failure to ease wartime regulations of all kinds at the earliest possible moment.

But the tragic fact still remains that the return to abundance in gasoline and the lifting of speed restrictions are sure to mean a sharp increase in the number of deaths upon the highways. There is no sound reason why there should be an increase—just as there is no good reason for most traffic accidents. But they have occurred, and they will occur, and so far as we know, there's not much that can or will be done to prevent them.

Reasons for the increased hazards of the present are obvious. More cars will be driven more miles than at any time in several years, creating more opportunities for accidents. Most cars will be driven on tires that are well worn—and tire blowouts are one of the chief causes of traffic mishaps. Few cars are in the best mechanical condition, which adds materially to the probability of accidents in them.

Prospects for the immediate future are all the more tragic because so much of preventive nature could be done so easily—and yet will not be done. This, we suppose, arises from the natural feeling of the individual that serious accidents are something that happen to the other fellow, never to himself.

If this natural feeling could be altered and the individual would awaken to the realization that he is the type of person who does have accidents, then traffic tragedies certainly would be fewer. And it might be helpful if, for a few weeks, traffic enforcement agencies of all kinds in states, counties and municipalities would enforce traffic laws vigorously.

Indeed, the prevention of deaths on the highways is so simple that it seems incredible that most of them would be allowed to occur. Yet, unless human nature has changed, it inevitably will happen that many persons will pay with their lives for the privilege of buying more gasoline and driving at higher speeds.

Polio Prevention

An experiment which the nation and the world is watching eagerly is being conducted in Rockford, Ill. An Army bomber was used there a few days ago to spray some 1650 pounds of the new war-developed insecticide, known as DDT, in an effort to cope with a poliomyelitis problem with which Rockford is confronted—just as many communities have been confronted in recent years.

Polio still is one of the diseases about which medical science knows relatively little. But there is strong evidence to support the belief that insects—particularly houseflies—are among the worst carriers of the contagion. So the primary purpose of the spraying experiment was to eliminate insects from Rockford as effectively as possible.

If the experiment is productive of results, it still will leave unanswered many questions in connection with polio. But if it does prove effective as a measure of prevention, it will represent a long stride toward greater security of health. It will be gained toward the victory which almost certainly will come sooner or later in the war against polio. It will mean lives saved while the fight for complete conquest continues.

The Stars Say

For Friday, August 31

SHOULD it be possible to resist the lures or home, friends, social and sentimental celebrations, parties and a general pursuit of pleasure, there are indications of excellent openings for the attainment of high objectives of cherished ambitions, while these benefits should enlarge the prospect of happiness, advancement and personal gratification, yet there is a tendency to be prodigal, indulgent and lavish with all sorts of resources and energies, while carried away by excitement or emotional impulses. With firm grip on reason, sentiment, funds and sidestepping frauds and subtle intrigue, there might be lucrative and pleasant contacts.

Those whose birthday it is may look to many benefits, progress, a profitable and pleasant year, provided they are not carried away by their emotions, impulses and inclinations toward excesses, mainly in the pursuit of pleasure and festivities under excitement and tumultuous tensions. Susceptible to fraud, treachery and intrigue, the most benefic possibilities may be negated. Calmness and poise are enjoined.

A child born on this day, while having some talents and ambitions, yet may invite self-defeat and frustrations by over-indulgence, excess, extravagance and emotional impetuosity.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Treating Migraine Headache

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OF all the different kinds of headache migraine is by all means the most severe and probably the most difficult to treat. In migraine there are headaches which occur at intervals. Usually they affect just one side of the head and the pain is behind the eye. Frequently the headache is preceded by some disturbance of vision, hearing, taste or smell. There is some evidence that the condition seems to run in families. The attacks usually are accompanied by sickness of the stomach and vomiting. In between attacks those affected have no symptoms whatsoever.

According to Doctors Stuyvesant Butler and William A. Thomas of Chicago, it is generally believed that migraine is brought on by the release into the blood of a substance known as histamine. This is a toxic or poisonous substance which is formed in the body as a result of a reaction on its part to substances to which a person may be over-sensitive.

Histamine Injections

In view of this fact, they attempted treatment of migraine using injections of histamine in gradually increasing amounts to lessen the sensitivity to it. No patients were treated who might have had their attacks from other causes such as sinus infection, high blood pressure or eye strain. They treated 34 persons who had severe or moderately severe migraine attacks. The injections caused flushing of the face, rapid heart beat and severe headache.

In carrying out their treatment Doctors Butler and Thomas dissolved the histamine in a large amount of salt solution and took a period of from four to eight hours to give the total quantity of material. During the injection, the blood pressure was taken every hour and if a drop in pressure occurred, the treatment was stopped. No persons were treated who had either high blood pressure or heart or kidney damage, or a history of peptic ulcer.

Severe Cases

Only those patients were treated who had attacks severe enough to interfere with their activities. Only three of the 34 patients failed to get relief from the treatment. Seven were improved in that their headaches became less severe or less frequent. Twenty-four were completely free of symptoms.

From this study it would appear that the treatment by injections of histamine would seem to be of great value for certain patients who are suffering from typical migraine headaches.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Warsaw Conditions Terrible, Says Ohio Rep. Frances Bolton

BERLIN, Aug. 30—Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) said today that "everything has been nationalized in Poland" and, as a result, rehabilitation of the country was hindered.

Mrs. Bolton, who has just returned from a visit to Warsaw, said: "For instance in Warsaw if an owner spends money fixing up his place and the government takes a liking to it, he loses what he has put into it."

The task of moving Warsaw's debris is going slowly because of the lack of equipment, she said, commenting: "A contractor with an American bulldozer could work wonders."

Mrs. Bolton is a member of a house foreign affairs committee touring Europe and the Middle East. She said conditions in the Polish capital were far worse than anything she had seen elsewhere on the continent.

"Berlin is bad enough," she said, "but nothing to compare with Warsaw, which was destroyed by vicious, determined, fanatic German demons."

Mrs. Bolton said Poles with whom the committee talked said that if American help was forthcoming it should be given within the next six months to avert a widespread famine.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.

LISBON BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hartrum and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Woodburn, and her daughter, Joan Woodburn, left Lisbon today to make their home at Westerville.

The Hartrum family, together with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Blackburn, who will leave Lisbon to reside in Warren, were honor guests at a picnic dinner Tuesday given by the Silver Circle of the Christian church at the Croft cottage at Willow Grove park.

About 40 guests were present at the picnic and social gathering at which members of the Hartrum family were presented with "going away" gifts.

Mrs. Gertrude McCord was honor guest at the meeting of the Victory Club at the home of Mrs. Ruby Hasler. The meeting was in honor of Mrs. McCord's birthday.

The evening was spent playing "500" after which the hostess served a lunch and birthday gifts were presented to the honor guest.

Don't You Know The War's Over?

AP Newsfeatures

The time is now at hand when long-suffering Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Main Street can soon let off some of the steam pent-up since Dec. 7, 1941.

Mrs. Jones can walk right up to the counter of her department store and interrupt a gossip fest between salesgirls without hearing that familiar refrain:

"Don't you know there's a war on?"

Mr. Jones can drive into the filling station and expect to have his windshield wiped, his tires and battery checked as he utters those wonderful words:

"Fill 'er up!"

Mrs. Jones can even request delivery of her groceries once more, and she may hear a clerk say:

"Thank you."

The Jones family can go to a restaurant and watch the reversion of waiters from wartime insolence to peacetime courtesy.

If Mrs. Jones doesn't like the way the cleaners did her dress, she can send it back, and receive no back-talk.

She can go back to all those shops where she's been insulted for the last three years and say:

"Don't you know the war's over!"

Hospital Ship Docks

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The hospital ship Aldea E. Lutz, carrying 735 service casualties of the European war, docked today in New York harbor, first of seven ships arriving at two east coast ports with more than 4,600 veterans.

IN THE HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise . . . the materials and resources . . . with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men, the men who are still far away.

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And the one way we can help most to care for our wounded . . . to bring our veterans home . . . to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for . . . to care for the families of those who died before the victory was won . . . is simply this:

Buy all the Bonds you can. Keep all the Bonds you buy.

THE NAME OF ROVER GOES TO THE DOGS

AURORA, Ill.—Rover is losing its touch as a name for dogs, a survey of the city clerk's records shows. Only one Rover was found among the 89 licensed dogs in this community.

Most popular is Skipper, with the names of Skipper and Skip, followed by the old and enduring favorites, Spot and Pal.

Other names, reflecting influence or inspiration of one sort or another, include Flicka, Goofy, Bambi, Dopey, Sarge, Captain, Pooch, Bum, Fella and Hedy.

"It's like eating fish bones. They dissolve in your stomach. I used to get light bulbs, but I had to give it up. The pieces are too sharp."

WAR TURNS TUNA

TO POOR FISH—Schooners of tuna have only a sucker's chance since the war put flying fishermen over the Pacific. Crowds of Coast Guard blimps hovering offshore waters for ensnared and distressed vessels also have their aerial watch to spotting tuna. When a school is located, the blimp radios to regular stations at Astoria, Ore., or Aberdeen, Wash., where the signal is relayed to commercial fleets at sea.

WONT FAZE 'EM—The "checker bugs" have infested Portland city parks more than ever this summer. Crowded old regulars and newcomers in with their kibitzing until veterans of many summers of open air games protest they can't concentrate on the imminent annual tournament. After the tournament the checker association returns to their quarters downtown, usually with some new members trailing along. The park carpenters then rip up the checker boards nailed to the shaded tables each spring.

MEDELLIN, Colombia—A reporter for the newspaper El Pueblo says that the jewels on a crown given to Simon Bolivar by the people of Cuzco, Peru, have been stolen and replaced by colored glass. Bolivar presented this crown to one of his generals, and it was kept in custody by a bank in the town of Rionegro.

82,000 Have Served Time In Dingy Ohio Pen Since 1834

By REED D. SMITH

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30—Construction of a new Ohio penitentiary, with $5,000,000 appropriated by the last legislature will ring down the curtain on a colorful era in Ohio's penal annals.

More than 82,000 inmates have entered the mid-town prison since 1834, including the 3,260 there now. Most prisoners left after serving their terms, but a number have died inside the walls and 271 others have been executed, 28 by hanging and 243 by electrocution.

Ohio shifted from the rope to electricity in 1896. A convict who made the first heavy oak "chair" barely escaped death in it. After his release, he was convicted of first-degree murder and avoided execution only through a "mercy" recommendation by a jury. Eventually he died in prison.

Boy Was First Victim

First victim of the "chair" was William Hass, 17-year-old Hamilton county murderer.

The only woman electrocuted was the notorious Anna Marie Hahn, Cincinnati pokerer, put to death in December, 1938, after exhausting all efforts to escape the chair.

The blonde Bavarian woman, accused of killing at least four aged men in a "murder for profit" scheme, entered the death chamber supported by two women guards. Upon seeing the chair, she slumped unconscious and was strapped down in that condition.

Revived by smelling salts, she pleaded with Warden J. C. Woodward.

"Please don't let them do this to me," she said. "There's nothing I can do about it," the warden replied with bowed head.

Mrs. Hahn next appealed to newsmen crowded into the squat building housing the chair. They were silent.

At a signal from Woodward, the current was turned on and Mrs. Hahn paid with her life for her crimes.

An annex for women was added to the penitentiary in 1837 and 11 cells were available until 1913, when women were committed to the reformatory at Marysville.

Dillinger Escapade—One of the most notorious prisoners executed was Harry Pierpont, a Dillinger gangster.

Pierpont, Russell Clark and Charles Makley were convicted of killing Sheriff Jesse Sarber during the liberation of John Dillinger.

4-H Club News

Four Leaf Clover

Final plans for the exhibit at the Mahoning county fair at Canfield were made by members of the Four Leaf Clover 4-H club Monday at the home of the leader, Mrs. Bert Phillips, Damascus.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Phillips, accompanied by Esther Hoffman, Hilda Phillips, Carol Ryser, Miriam Earley and Barbara Bedell, went to the fair grounds to decorate the booth for the display.

The club is to be represented at the style review at the Fair Friday when girls from the district compete.

Damascus Hustlers

The Damascus Hustlers 4-H club met in Quaker Canyon Tuesday evening for routine business.

The roll call was answered by "The project which impressed me most during the judging tour."

Plans were discussed for the exhibit at the Columbiana county fair at Lisbon Sept. 11 to 15; 4-H day at the fair will be Sept. 15.

It was decided to work in Quaker canyon for their civic work this year. This will be done at the meeting next Tuesday.

German Girls More Nazi Than Boys; Want Fuehrer

By JAMES F. KING

(By Associated Press)

OFFENBACH, Germany, Aug. 30—German girls appear more Nazi-fied than boys, an American survey discloses, that though these youngsters "attempt to mouth democratic and pro-American sentiments," they have little conception of democracy.

After a week of study and questioning of 254 German boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18 in this city, the army's information control intelligence division drew a picture of a hypothetical "typical" German youth in the American zone.

"This youth wants to continue living in Germany and considers Russia the worst place in the world in which to live," the report said. "He feels that Germans as people are superior to Italians, Poles, Russians and French, but not to Americans and Britons."

The "typical" youth attributes Allied victory over Germany to superior materials and air supremacy.

While ready to admit Germany started the war, he also places "responsibility" on Jews, Englishmen and Poles.

He "expresses the view that Germany should become a democracy," the report said. "At the same time, however, he says the idea of National Socialism was good, but not carried out right."

He hesitates on whether Hitler himself was bad or whether it was just his advisors who were bad. In any case he is convinced that Germany now needs a strong fuhrer in order to recover from her destruction.

"He agrees quite wholeheartedly that a free press is a fine thing for the country, but at the same time feels that newspapers should print only what is good for the people. He is strongly convinced the average person is stupid and misled by propaganda."

In general the report said the survey indicated German youth was little concerned about the political future of Germany, but "almost entirely absorbed in personal and economic problems" — principally food and jobs.

Lawn Mowers—Prewar Versus Postwar

Will Curry isn't falling for those pictures of a postwar life of ease. He was sweating over his lawn mower the other day, when somebody shows him pictures of a mower that runs under its own power.

"Shucks," says Will, "I like a lawn mower that gives you some backtalk and exercise. It gets the old blood circulating and works up a wonderful thirst. 'Then,' Will adds with zest, 'there's nothing in the whole world that tastes as good as a cheerful glass of beer!'"

From where I sit, there's a lot of good sense in what Will says. A little honest effort never hurt anybody. And there should be more to our post-war plans than how to make life comfortable and easy.

Outdoor work—work you do with your hands and your back—ought to be part of everybody's post-war plans. And on a hot day, as Will says, there's always that sparkling glass of beer as a reward!

Questions and Answers On Problems of the Servicemen

WASHINGTON—Here are some questions from veterans and relatives of GIs on the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief act:

Q. My husband will be out of the Army in a few days. When the collector of local taxes heard this, he called me up and said we would have to pay all back taxes on a farm we own just outside of town or he would sell it immediately. Can he do this? How much time does my husband get to earn money to pay up those taxes?

A. The collector of your taxing district could not sell the property for such delinquent taxes while your husband was in the service, and cannot for six months after his discharge, unless he secured permission from the court. The court has wide discretion in this matter.

Q. My husband was involved in a law suit over an automobile accident just before he joined the Navy. He will be out soon and I am wondering how long he will have before his case is taken up?

A. The law authorized a court to postpone proceedings for the period of military service and for three months thereafter.

Q. What does the law say about cars which were bought by a veteran before he went into the service and his inability to keep up payments?

A. In cases of automobiles the court may postpone repossession for the duration of military service, plus three months, or the court may permit repossession on the repayment by the seller of monies paid on account of the purchase price.

Q. My husband is with the occupation troops in Germany and probably won't get out of the Army for a year or more. In the meantime I've been having trouble with a neighbor regarding a boundary dispute on some property we have. I think the proceedings so far have been unfair but I can't afford a special attorney. What should I do?

A. Contact the local bar association. You will get help there.

Q. Jimmy Doolittle, back in 1931, flew over the three great North American national capitals, Ottawa, Washington and Mexico City, in a period of 12 hours.

A. Four million trees are cut annually in the United States alone for telephone, telegraph, and power line poles.

leased tanks, trucks or machine tools to a country which had some left over after the war, the return of those articles could be requested.

However, top officials said today there was no thought of any sizeable requests along this line. Such action, they added, would only add to the surplus of war materials building up in this country.

Today's report showed that to last July 1 total lend-lease amounted to $42,020,779,000.

In addition lend-lease goods amounting to $788,603,000 was assigned to commanding generals in the field. Thus the real total is somewhere near $43,000,000,000.

179 School Boys Escape, Hunt 48 Missing Today

ELDORA, Ia., Aug. 30.—Police cars filled with state bureau criminal investigation agents, state highway patrolmen, and Eldora Training school employees crisscrossed the surrounding country of Eldora today looking for 48 of 179 boys who escaped from the school yesterday.

Darrel T. Brown, assistant supervisor of the school, said last night 78 other escapees had returned. He was captured after the mass escape following a noon-day riot in the dining hall. Three others were caught early this morning.

Maybe you said it because your father was a Railroad man and he knew what Hamilton accuracy meant. Or maybe it was a fine watch you yourself once had—and lost. But whatever the reason, when you came to us for a new watch and found that Hamilton had gone to war you said—"I'll wait."

KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands—This rain-flooded, sun-tortured wasteland in the Pacific is a paradise for dogs—and hell for men.

Kwajalein is enough to cure any Robert Louis Stevenson addict of any romantic ideas about life on an atoll. It is about 2½ miles long and half a mile wide—just large enough to support a few quonset huts, one long runway and four fruitless palm trees.

Since American troops sponged Japanese defenders from the atoll in February, 1944, Kwajalein has been converted into another island hopping station in the air transport command's Pacific network. It is 19 hours by air from Honolulu, eight hours from Guam.

When you land here from a C-54 Skymaster after sitting 13 hours in a canvas bucket seat, even the dazing heat of Kwajalein is welcome. The troops who are stationed here and who service the trans-Pacific planes feel differently about the place.

Hop in "Kwajalein Lodge," the one room passenger terminal, a large blackboard greets the visitor with these chalked signs:

"All passengers welcome to Kwaj—you too can be rock-happy."

"No liquor atoll—no wimmen atoll—no nothin' atoll."

"Kwajalein—we hate the place."

"Spend a week and go home a freak."

Soldiers work eight hours a day under skies so hot they would make a cigar store Indian perspire. The normal uniform consists of shoes, trousers, a pilot's cap and a pair of sunglasses.

At each end of the small atoll, there are cemeteries housing defeated sons of the shrinking Japanese empire and their short-lived dreams of world conquest. American Marine dead lie on a small island nearby.

The troops find lack of any social life more monotonous than their work. They have only a little beer and soft drinks and about their only recreation at night is a motion picture show.

Some men have remained as long as 14 months, but the policy now is to rotate them to Hawaii or some other agreeable spot after a year.

Day time temperatures—the boys say they range from up to 120 degrees—are hot enough to bear during the dry season but it's rainy weather that really gets the men down.

"Everything floats," said Cpl. Edward Tomasek, Racine, Wis. "You have to walk to work on water and you need a canoe to get to the mess hall."

One thing that keeps the troops' spirits is the number of dogs. There are mutts of every breed and size.

"This is a stopping off place for dogs," said Cpl. Charles Spade, Hinton, W. Va. "Combat crews returning from Pacific duty have to drop off their pet dogs as they are not allowed to take them into Hawaii or beyond."

As word came to climb back on the plane leaving for Guam, one of the ground mechanics ran up to the door.

"Mister," he said earnestly, "if you write anything about this place don't say nothing good about it."

VANISHED GROUP OF HOUSTON CREW FOUND IN JUNGLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 — Another group of World War II's vanished fighting men—possibly 300 survivors of the old heavy cruiser,

Houston—has been accounted for after three and a half years of mystery.

Two emaciated enlisted men of the Houston's crew carried the word to a guerrilla training station in Thailand several hundred of their mates were held by the Japanese in jungle prison camps. The news was brought to the United States by Lt. Col. Nicol Smith, an underground operator for the office of strategic services.

The Houston was hit by two eight-inch shells in the battle of the Java sea on Feb. 27, 1942. The next night she started out from Tanjung priok to try to run Soenda strait. With her was the Australian cruiser Perth and trailing them was the Dutch destroyer, Evertsen. Last word from any of the three came from the Evertsen, which reported she had been caught by two enemy cruisers and was beached in sinking condition.

Smith said the two enlisted men escaped from one of the prison camps and, aided by Thais, made their way to the guerrilla station

They arrived there nearly dead from privation.

The two said several hundred others had survived three and a half years of imprisonment in the remote jungles of Thailand and Southeastern Asia. The OSS parachuted medicines, supplies and army cooks into the guerrilla camp to help the men

Soon they will be flown out of the jungle.

AL BENTON'S FORM A WORRY TO TIGER FANS, SLIP TO ONE

Single Game Lead Now In Effect After Loss of Three In a Row

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer
Al Benton's form reversal has Detroit fans guessing today with the early-season sensation running a three-game losing streak and the Tigers' lead sliced to a single length.

The ex-sailor who started the 1945 campaign with five successive victories hasn't been pitching bad ball but he hasn't won since Aug. 6 and hasn't finished any of his last five starting jobs. Last night the St. Louis Browns beat him, 5-4.

Benton's defeat by the Browns came at the hands of Bob Muncrief who is just about the hottest thing in the league at the moment. He has the best win record (10-2) in either league.

Washington fumbled another chance to close in on the Tigers when they split a two-night doubleheader with Philadelphia, taking the first 3-2 with the help of a double error by catcher Greek George but bowing in the finale, 2-1. The Nats picked up a half game on Detroit.

Dutch Leonard got credit for the first tilt, although Ossie Bluege had to call in Mickey Haefner to retire the last batter and Reliever Joe Berry outpitched Roger Wolf to gain the split as the A's snapped a 7-game losing streak.

New York Stopped
Lefty Vic Johnson chilled New York's chances of moving ahead with a 1-0 job on behalf of Boston. A Cleveland at Chicago tilt was postponed because of wet grounds.

Cincinnati's tattered Reds, who had won only four of their last 25 before St. Louis came to town, continued to blast the Cardinals' hopes of repeating by making it two in a row, 3-1. Vern Kennedy did the job on the Red Birds yesterday, defeating Blix Donnelly who was making his first appearance in almost a month.

Chicago stretched its National league advantage to 4½ games by knocking off Pittsburgh, 2-0. After Ray Prim wilted in the 91-degree heat, Hy Vandenberg came on to

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Two stars of last year's All American boys baseball game, Bill Pierce and Vic Picetti, are doing quite well in class "AA" baseball and ten others signed pro contracts. It will be interesting to see what becomes of the kids who starred in last Tuesday's tilt. . . . Curt Simmons, the slender Egyptian, Pa., youngster who was picked as the game's standout, looked like a real ballplayer—both on his southpaw pitching and on his hitting when he really picked a 3-2 pitch for the game-deciding triple.

PANTING FOR VICTORY
Larry MacPhail presented every member of the Yankees an order for a new hat as a reward for their winning two doubleheaders from Washington over the weekend. . . . Could that be taken as hint that the Yanks still don't suit Larry?

complete the whitewash job against Nick Strincevich.

Two unearned runs against Philly Dick Barrett enabled Brooklyn to keep its flag hopes alive with a second straight 2-1 verdict behind Curt Davis. Barrett committed a balk, permitting one score and the other results from Jimmy Wadell's boot of Dixie Walker's bouncer.

New York and Boston again had an open date.

COLLEGE ALL-STAR OUTFIT TO CLASH WITH PACKERS 11

Game Expected to Draw a 92,000 House Today In Soldier's Field

BY JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO, Aug. 30—Postwar football makes a roaring debut tonight when the College All-Stars and the Green Bay Packers clash in a charity spectacle that will pack 92,000 fans into sprawling Soldier field.

This colorful harbinger of the first peace-time season since 1941 will send the favored Packers, National Football league champions, against 65 of the best collegiate players produced in the past five years.

The Packers, spear-headed by the finest pass-snatcher in the business, 32-year-old Don Hutson, were 7 to 5 choices as they sought the seventh professional triumph in the 12-year series. The All-Stars won three games and two were tied.

An All-Star victory, however, would hardly stun the capacity crowd since the collegians are coached by crafty Bernie Bierman of Minnesota.

College Stars
Long departed from their respective campuses, such stellar performers as Charles Trippi of Georgia, Tom Harmon of Michigan, Bob Kennedy of Washington State, Ernie Bonelli of Pittsburgh and Johnny Strzykowski of Marquette will carry the mail for the All-Stars.

Both teams are expected to lead a parade of passes since the new rule permitting college eleven to toss from any point behind the scrimmage line will be operative.

Bierman will rely on pass tarts among such ends as Ted Cook of Alabama, Bill Huber of Notre Dame, Jack Dugger of Ohio State and Walter Lamb of Oklahoma.

The Packers will be making their third appearance in the series. They lost 6-0 in 1937, but spunked the 1940 All Stars, 45-28. The All-Stars were nipped by the Chicago Bears last season, 24-21, and scored their last victory in 1943 when they trimmed the Washington Redskins, 27-7.

Facing this outfit will be the Chicago A first round champs—Mullins—blessed with additional stars from the local league.

Manager Patsy Konerth and Business Manager Ed Scullion have lined up the following roster for the special event:

Francis Lanney, Paul Stratton, Al Catlos, Gordy Scullion, Walt Brian, Vince Dominetti, Wally and Mike Linder, Dale Ritchie of the Salem China, Eddie Pukalski of the Recreation and Bob Miller of the Salem News.

Buck Ritchie's Sinclairs will stick closely to their regular lineup which has Gale Stewart, Mutt Schaeffer, Fred Schmid, Bob Scullion, Dave Ritchie, Eddie Bosick, Lee Schafer, Bob Umberger and Keith Siding in the starting group. Manager Ritchie plays short.

The personnel of the Alliance outfit was not available at this writing but it is known that the Moose team uses an older, more experienced group than Sinclairs. They have won 11 of 14 games this season and have bettered some of Canton's top outfits.

Joe Kelley, league manager, said Empires Ray Reasbeck, Pat Bolen and Jimmie Primm will work the two games.

An amplifying system has been secured for the evening and identified.

GENERAL FIREPROOFING AND ALLIANCE MOOSE TO BATTLE SALEM'S BEST CLASS A MEN

Salem's Boosters club softball games—a twin-bill at Reilly stadium starting at 7:30 p. m. Friday—stack up to be about the most star-studded affair sponsored in the city for some time.

Besides Salem's two contenders for the evening's honors, Sinclair and Mullins, the visitors, General Fireproofing of Youngstown and the Alliance Moose, will bring power-loaded aggregations.

G-F's representatives, managed by John Russ, well-known district sports official, boast the cream of Youngstown's difficult baseball leagues.

Paul Birkholtz, captain of the team is without question one of the district's top baseball men. He plays roving short for G-F and runs the team on the field.

His brother, Ev Birkholtz—manager of the AA league's second half baseball champions, the North Side Civics—plays a bang-up third base assignment.

The two brothers were widely publicized in the recent tournament in Columbus for their slugging ability, both having tagged home runs which came close to setting a record for distance hitting there.

Outfielders on the G-F outfit include Joe Banner, Bob Tyn-dall, Steve Russo, Vincent Ferranchak and Frank Markusic, all of whom are well reputed as bachelors in Youngstown.

Dave Pine fills the second base position ably and Gus Bassett will be at short. Anthony "Lefty" Tabachino, a newcomer to the G-F ranks, is on first base. Tabachino played center for Youngstown Rays' basketball squad last season.

Bill Stogles, Steve Kohan and Fred Larson handle the mound work and are said to be as difficult a trio of underhanded tossers as has ever been attached to one club in this section.

The Youngstowners are outfitted with regulation softball uniforms, wear spikes and are identified by numbers for the fans' benefit.

To date they have won 43 games and lost nine.

Facing this outfit will be the Salem A first round champs—Mullins—blessed with additional stars from the local league.

Manager Patsy Konerth and Business Manager Ed Scullion have lined up the following roster for the special event:

Francis Lanney, Paul Stratton, Al Catlos, Gordy Scullion, Walt Brian, Vince Dominetti, Wally and Mike Linder, Dale Ritchie of the Salem China, Eddie Pukalski of the Recreation and Bob Miller of the Salem News.

Buck Ritchie's Sinclairs will stick closely to their regular lineup which has Gale Stewart, Mutt Schaeffer, Fred Schmid, Bob Scullion, Dave Ritchie, Eddie Bosick, Lee Schafer, Bob Umberger and Keith Siding in the starting group. Manager Ritchie plays short.

The personnel of the Alliance outfit was not available at this writing but it is known that the Moose team uses an older, more experienced group than Sinclairs. They have won 11 of 14 games this season and have bettered some of Canton's top outfits.

Joe Kelley, league manager, said Empires Ray Reasbeck, Pat Bolen and Jimmie Primm will work the two games.

An amplifying system has been secured for the evening and identified.

ATHLETICS BEAT TRANSUE-WILLIAM OUTFIT HERE 2-0

Lefty Smith Hurls Another Shut-Out For Locals, Allows 5 Hits

Addition of Frank "Lefty" Smith to the Salem Athletics once again paid off in dividends, as the speedster added another feather to Salem's cap, defeating Transue-Williams 2-0 at Centennial park yesterday afternoon.

It was the second loss in 20 games for the Athletics team and the eighth win in a row for Salem.

Smith hurled air-tight ball, tight enough to earn Salem a victory on but nine scattered hits which only yielded pay dirt in a single inning.

He fanned seven batters in the eighth inning stretch and walked a total of 23 in two games here, totaling just 16 innings of ball.

Salem's scores came in the second inning. Steve Stanley doubled to left field, scoring Cibula with the first run. A line single by Joe Hrovatic scored Stanley and all the tallying was completed.

Bunch Hits
Bus Simpson and Stanley bunched two singles in the sixth inning, but nothing resulted at the plate.

Smith was head man all the way through the show and had the Athletics champions under his thumb at all times. He retired the club in order in five of the eight frames and only in the sixth did they have more than one man on base. He allowed five hits and issued two walks.

Salem faces the well-known Alliance Athenian club here Sunday. The game, to start at 2:30 p. m., is expected to draw a large crowd from Alliance.

The Athenians, a Negro group, defeated the Warren G. C. team which laced Salem here earlier in the year.

Manager Scott Chisholm said Smith would not be with the club this weekend.
